Donor data ...

Sneed is told a milestone in organ donation was reached two weeks ago.

- • To wit: The secretary of state's office signed up their 3.5 millionth in their First Person Consent Organ/Tissue Donor Registry. The program, which began Jan. 1, 2006, enables citizens to donate their organs without family consent.
- • The shocker: "One single donor can save or enhance the lives of 25 people," said an office spokesman.
